Comments by Torgny Hellström, CEO

Stable sales and positive cash flow during Q4

The previously announced restructuring of Anoto was executed during Q4. The result of the restructuring was a reduction of our annual cost base by around MSEK 40 to a level of MSEK 125. During 2010 a total of MSEK 21 were spent on the restructuring, of which MSEK 12 were reported in the second quarter (i.a. change of CEO). Costs related to the restructuring decided in October amounted to MSEK 9 and are included in the Q4 result. No further restructuring costs are expected. However, disbursements related to the restructuring will have a negative impact by MSEK 14 on the cash flow during 2011.

Net sales amounted to MSEK 212, the largest ever in Anoto history, and the EBITDA excluding restructuring cost was MSEK -7. The fourth quarter corresponding result was positive, MSEK 5.

The Group Net result amounts to MSEK -77 and includes besides the restructuring costs of MSEK 21 also write-downs of capitalized development cost of MSEK 29. Net result excluding one-time items consequently amounts to MSEK -27, and considering the cost reduction of MSEK 40 as a result from the restructuring I see good possibilities for a positive net result in 2011.

The development of our cash has been very satisfactory, with a positive cash flow in the fourth quarter of MSEK 17, mainly as a result of reduced working capital. Cash and liquid assets are at the end of 2010 at the same level as at the beginning of the year, MSEK 81.

In the light of last year's restructuring, I am pleased with Anoto's performance. However, I am not satisfied with the result and will not be so until Anoto shows sustainable growth and profit. Growth and profit will be our main priority during 2011. Thus we are driving a process of change to which all employees are dedicated.

Sales are stable with an underlying business without any significant one-time revenues.

Technology & Licensing has developed very well, especially within education and interactive whiteboards. Furthermore, we notice a substantial increase in royalty revenues from partners having developed products based on Anoto technology.

C Technologies had a weak start in 2010 due to lack of components in the world market. These problems are now behind us, and C Technologies reports increased sales in 2010 and positive growth.

Anoto Products is still suffering from the down-turn in the economy, but business is picking up. The healthcare sector and field services are two examples of areas where Anoto and its partners experience a positive development.

The freezing of the development of AFS and concentration of R&D resources to Lund has resulted in a more effective organization working closer to our partners.

Outlook

Through our recently executed restructuring program we are determined to make Anoto profitable and to have a positive cash flow from 2011.

Anoto's business model

Anoto's business is organized in two applications areas: Anoto Products and Technology & Licensing. These two application areas generate income in five different categories - licensing, royalty, digital pens, components and NRE (Non Refundable Engineering).

Anoto Products

Anoto Products focuses on systems, products and services that target businesses, primarily in the field of forms processing. Anoto has an indirect business model and markets its products through partners, such as system integrators, software developers and IT consulting firms, all of which offer customized solutions with Anoto technology to their corporate customers. Turnkey products, such as existing scanning and translation pens may also be marketed through other sales and distribution channels.

C Technologies started last year with a lack of components in the world market, resulting in lower sales than expected, but towards the end of the year we saw increased sales and a positive growth. During the fourth quarter C Technologies commenced developing the C-Pen software to make it compatible to the Android platform. We believe this will improve business possibilities in the retail market and as OEM. To further develop C-Pen as a tool for individuals with reduced eyesight or suffering from dyslexia several co-operation initiatives were started together with teachers and dyslexia associations.

Part of the restructuring that was performed in Q4 was to halt the development and to stop sales of the AFS platform and instead focus on sales to Anoto's major partners. Together with these larger partners Anoto has formed an Advisory Board with the purpose to improve and expand business opportunities and product development.

Technology & Licensing

Customers within Technology & Licensing develop and sell products based on technology and digital pens provided by Anoto. These products are learning toys, educational tools, visual communication equipment and personal productivity solutions. Several of these products are interactive, enabling real-time audio or visual feedback while writing or when touching interactive areas in books, on paper, whiteboards and flipcharts. End product customers are individual consumers as well as enterprises.

Technology & Licensing has developed very well, especially within education and interactive whiteboards. To our customers within in this segment we continually deliver digital pens.

To broaden our product range, mainly within education, together with a partner, we finalized the development of a simplified digital pen without memory and with a USB computer connection.

A beneficial sales development for the Anoto partner Livescribe Inc, USA, has increased royalty income to Anoto from Livescribe by almost four times.
